ENKEI TRAY MINI

Enkei is a collection of stone objects made from beautiful Silver Travertine. The collection consists of both jars and trays in different sizes and shapes. The geometric shapes, combined with the natural patterns of the travertine, create a striking balance minimalist design and the unique textures of each stone, ensuring that no items are exactly alike.

The jars are perfect for storing small items or serving as decorative accents, adding a touch of sophistication to any room. Meanwhile, the trays offer both functionality and style, ideal for displaying other decorative pieces or serving guests in a refined manner.

Crafted with meticulous attention to detail, the Enkei collection embodies hand-made quality and durability. The inherent strength of Silver Travertine ensures that these pieces will be cherished for years to come. Whether you're looking to enhance your living space or seeking a unique gift, the Enkei collection offers a refined aesthetic that seamlessly blends form and function.
